In its hostels too, it provides an ambience that promotes collective well being and fosters a spirit of cooperation, respect, and bonding. The hostel functionaries, executing their duties with utmost devotion, ensure a peaceful environment conducive for study and a child's moral and cultural development. With regular organization of festivities and competitions, the students get to sharpen and show their talents, and in the process acquire mutual respect and understanding, especially when the college is known to accommodate students from varied regions, cultures and backgrounds. A secure atmosphere wherein ragging and bullying are absolutely banned, the students learn to live a life that is disciplined, dignified and in accordance with the AryaSamajethics that make them exemplarily good humans.

Healthy and peaceful corporate living

A healthy and peaceful corporate living is an art which one acquires by learning rather than by instinct and its pre-supposes creation of rules and regulation which all should respect and honor. It should be understood that perfection of human life lies in restraint and self-control. Discipline is the most important element in one's individual and social dealings and its need in such a big hostel as ours cannot be over-emphasized. It is a matter of pride and pleasure that our students have established high traditions of discipline and we expect that the new entrants will not only maintain but also improve upon these glorious traditions.
